Planting Tips

- Water often (weekly) while plants are new, keeping soil moist but not soggy. Reduce watering frequency once plants are more established.
- This list is naturally vibrant but try to choose a variety of different colors when shopping — grouping a variety of colors together helps encourage more visits from pollinators!
- Pollinators themselves need water! You can level up your garden by adding a shallow birdbath or a decorative water & rock dish nearby
- Incorporate mulch to help maintain soil moisture and prevent erosion, which can provide better ground habitat for pollinators.
